

The BGSS Bulletin

Upcoming Events

November 2nd @ 10am-1pm: How To Do Meaningful Work in Times of Constant Crisis? - A talk and panel discussion inspired by graduate students. Location: Zoom and ARTS 368 (register to attend in person)

November 3rd - 4th and 6th - 8th: Flu Shot Clinics - Free! Just register and show up! Locations: 3rd - 4th: Nechako Gathering Space, 6th-8th: UNC200 Ballroom

November 23rd: BGSS Bob Ross Paint Night! Join us for guided painting with snacks! All supplies provided.

November 28th: BGSS Trivia at KBC! We are buying appetizers! Keep an eye out for the sign-up sheet.

November 1st-30th: UBC Thrive Month. There will be events throughout the month focused on supporting mental health including free coffee, meal prep classes, and yoga. Check out thrive.ubc.ca for more info!

Reminders

-Nov 13-17th: Midterm Break

Want a photo featured on the next newsletter? Email it to us at biogradsociety@gmail.com

Department Updates

- Department Meeting: November 10th ART 219 9:30am - 11:30am All Biology grad students welcome!
- Ongoing changes to graduate student space are being made as various offices are transitioned to hot desks. Keep an eye out for any updates regarding your space!

BGSS Hike at K.L.O Creek

Progress Reports

- We are still looking for an Event Coordinator! Contact us if you are interested and help us organize grad community events!

-ASC 3rd floor graduate students: Please make sure you fill out the desk space survey sent out by the Faculty of Science and let us know if you did not receive it! Thank you to all those who have attended meetings thus far as these changes are made - your presence makes a difference in fighting for our space!

Our Student-Faculty Liaison, Diego, at the BGSS Tie-Dye Event

